

Is it possible that preacher Beecher knew of the past immorality and licentiousness of candidate Cleveland—as is charged against him—and so supports him out of sympathy, a kind of fellow feeling?

Theodore Roosevelt, the brilliant young New York statesman, who has hitherto been claimed by the independents, declares that he will give the republican ticket his hearty support. "One by one the roses fade."

"The longer Grover Cleveland has been before the people, the more he has weakened," said Henry Watterson, a few days previous to the democratic convention. True, Henry, very true, and it has been just the same way since he was nominated for the Presidential office. And during the past few days he has weakened wonderfully in the estimation of the people, except the select few who support him on high moral grounds.

Further Columbus's Paper, the organ of the anti-monopolists of New York city, announces that it will suspend publication until the first week in September, before deciding what course to pursue in the campaign. As at present advised, it thinks the best thing its readers can do, as a choice between Blaine and Cleveland, is to vote for Blaine. It says the late democratic convention spat upon an honest platform and spurned the demands of labor.

How Liquor is Adulterated.

I manufactured liquor for twenty-five years. I began the liquor business, selling beer over my father's bar when I was fifteen years old. I know all about it and make any kind. The adulteration of liquor is something you know little about, and the extent of it will surprise you. A man stands alone as good a chance as being struck by lightning as to get a pure article of brandy in New York. With rectified whiskey as a basis we can imitate any kind of brandy. The French are more expert than we are, we begin where they leave off, and God pity the man who drinks the stuff we make. We make champagne which you buy for the genuine article. It costs to manufacture $4 a barrel, we sell it for $10 to dealers. We make the stuff and put it in our own bottles, make a fac-simile label of the genuine, import Spanish corks for the bottles and French straw and baskets to pack them in. We want to make a genuine imported wine. We buy one barrel of it. Our cooper takes the barrel as a pattern and makes ours by it. They are new and bright. We put them through a staining process and they come out old and nasty and worn just like the genuine importation. Thirty-two deadly poisons are used in the manufacture of wine. Not one gallon in fifty that is sold here ever saw France. We sell thousands of gallons of whiskey to France to have them come back to us something else. Of all poisonous liquors in the world, brandy is the deadliest. Styreline is only one of the poisons in it. A certain oil is used in its manufacture, eight drops of which will kill a cat in eight minutes, and a dog in nine minutes. The most temperate men in New York are the wholesale dealers. They dare not drink the stuff.—Major C. B. Cotton, New York.

The Detroit Free Press observes editorially this morning that "some of the Blaine organs have taken to publishing an anonymous assault from a notorious source upon Mr. Cleveland's character." It is wholly correct with his alleged conduct as a private individual, and wholly disconnected with his conduct as an official. The Evening Journal is not a Blaine organ by any manner of means; and if the Free Press means that we have published "an anonymous assault from a notorious source upon Mr. Cleveland's character," the Free Press deliberately lies. The charges against Grover Cleveland were prepared by one of the oldest and most highly esteemed ministers of the gospel in the city of Buffalo, after obtaining authentic proof. His name has been added to them, and the publication was made with the approval and at the request of the leading ministers in Buffalo. The Free Press does not deny or even intimate that the charges are false.—Detroit Evening Journal.

The sleepers between Chicago and Toronto, running through without change via St. Thomas, which the Michigan Central and Canadian Pacific put on in May, have proven a great success. Leaving Chicago at 4:15 p. m., on the Michigan Central Fast N. Y. Express, the traveler arrives in Ontario's busy metropolis at half-past 9 next morning. Returning he leaves Toronto at 1:30 p. m., and arrives in Chicago next morning at 7:55. The round trip thus consumes but 2 nights, leaving the day time for business. These facilities exercise no little effect upon the increasing commercial and social relations of the two cities. As soon as the necessary arrangements can be made after the opening of the new Canadian Pacific line between Toronto and Smith's Falls in July, this valuable through car system will be extended to Ottawa and Montreal.

Every considerable industry in this state is threatened in its waning prosperity by the free-trade spirit now rising to dominance in the democratic party—a spirit so blind and heedless in its action that the democratic representatives in congress from this state are carried away by the free-trade infatuation. This is a time in which, instead of the scramble for office, the great principles involved in the healthy life of society, and as a necessity thereto, in success of business, need re-affirmation and endorsement in the convictions and conduct of men. This is required for the prosperity of the state, including all the ramified particulars which that prosperity involves.—Grand Haven Herald.

Two richly dressed young men, the tightness of whose trousers suggested that they had been painted on their legs, stopped in front of a Madison avenue lamp-post the other evening and lighted their cigarettes. "Aw, say," remarked one of the twin to a passing policeman, "we've lost our way, don't you know, and can't you tell us where?" "Certainly," interrupted the officer, "the independent headquarters are one block farther on. Turn to your left."

And the young men marvel much that he had divined their mission, for he was even correct.—New York Graphic.

No remedy for Rheumatism and Neuralgia ever came before the public so well vindicated by previous experiments and so fortified by influential names as Athlaphora. Rev. E. N. Seelye, agent of Board of Charities, New Haven, Conn., writes: "Am glad to certify that Athlaphora cured my wife of Rheumatism when all other remedies failed. She has taken but one bottle to effect a permanent cure."

Company D, 66 Illinois W. S. S., will hold their first reunion at the home of one of their comrades, P. O. Bowe, on the shores of the beautiful Paw Paw Lake, on Wednesday and Thursday, August 6th and 7th. It is nineteen years since these soldiers separated, after having destroyed the power that made one class of men subject to the wishes and authority of another, and now they come together, bringing their wives, to triumph over the result of their labors of '61. We hope for them favorable weather, believing the hospitality of our respected townsman will fully meet their most extravagant expectations.—Waterford Record.

During the storm on Wednesday morning the barn of George Walling on the west side of North Center street, was struck by lightning, and in less than five minutes was enveloped in flames. In it was stored about 15 acres of wheat and several tons of hay, belonging to Charles Walling, who is working the farm. It was the only heavy report during the storm. The rods on the barn affected nothing, as the bolt struck the barn several feet from them.—Day Spring.
